As a Project Coordinator in our California office, Adrinne Esteva makes sure we are providing the best service possible to our legal and insurance clients. She keeps engineers on schedule, and locates, reviews, organizes, and archives case materials efficiently. "The Project Coordinators strive to build relationships of mutual trust with our clients. We work hard, and always go the extra mile."

Adrinne earned a Bachelor's degree in Biological Science at Cal State Fullerton, and a Paralegal Certificate from El Camino College. She experienced the joys and challenges of the legal industry while working at a law firm, and also saw how experts became involved in some legal cases. "I joined MEA Forensic because I am interested in the process of problem-solving, and seeing how scientists can get to an unbiased expert opinion that could be invaluable for a case."

MEA Forensic was the perfect opportunity to pair her interest in law with her passion for cars. "I absolutely love cars", she confesses. "I grew up around cars. My father owns body shops, so I learned everything I could. I also enjoy going to the racetracks, and I can tell the make and model of most cars by looking at the headlights", she adds.
